Why is Adopting Teams for Business Difficult?

Business leaders understand that the adoption of Teams requires a fundamental change in end-user behavior since it alters the way people work together.

Without the right knowledge and skill training, employees:

- Do not understand the proper workflows to adopt, and revert back to outdated collaboration practices and platforms
- Continue to work in silos—using email for collaboration and document management, leading to lost time and efficiency
- Fail to leverage Teams features for video, conference calls and web meetings, which increases travel and telephone costs
- Resist using integrated tools like Planner and Power BI, limiting returns on software investments
- Fail to take advantage of meeting features, notes and planning tools, which leads to missed opportunities for real-time collaboration

KEY BENEFITS

- ➔ Technical enablement of Teams and increased adoption
- ➔ Higher return on Microsoft licensing investment
